Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

We doubt if history will repeat itself as regards another term for President Roosevelt because, speaking as of 1940, "he kept us out of the war." In the first place if he were nominated, it would be for his third term, not for his second, as was the case when Woodrow Wilson was re-elected. In the second place, if we are kept out of the war, it will be due in larger measure to Congress than to the President. And in the third place—

Despite the Gallup poll showing a big gain in the President's personal popularity in the last two months, we believe that gains in this respect will be offset by deep national prejudice against third terms. The incidence of war conditions in the world, however, may upset any forecast. The President's desire to repeal the arms embargo (at this writing, odds are that he will attain this goal) undoubtedly pleases a very large number of manufacturers in a position to benefit by the repeal. Conservative forces of business and industry, which have opposed the President for nearly seven years may be won over to support him in third term aspirations, if the Republicans should make an issue of embargo repeal next year.

So far as distinterested observers (there are a few) can perceive, if the arms embargo is repealed, we shall presently be launched on a war boom. If the embargo is repealed and Congress fails to enact an excess profits tax of formidable proportions in order to hold down a runaway market for all stocks even remotely benefited by sale of war materials, we shall have laid the foundation for another depression that in all likelihood, will tower over the six-year depression of the Roosevelt administration as the Empire State building towers over the old fort on the Battery.

The prospect at the moment is for a long war in which attrition of the German people will be the major factor in the ultimate victory of the Allies. Former President Hoover points out that the Alies do not in reality need our services, that they are far better equipped to fight even with Russia allied with Germany, and Italy thrown in for good measure, than they were at the beginning of the war of 1914. Hoover is opposed to the repeal of the arms embargo.

President Roosevelt has asked for an adjournment of partisan politics, but we doubt whether they will be adjourned or whether the President will be willing to take his own advice. Whether the arms embargo is repealed or not, if the war continues for three or four years, we doubt if it will make any particular difference in the result to our national economy. Unconsciously, perhaps, President Roosevelt would like to wind up his second term with a burst of prosperity. He undoubtedly would like to see our army of 10-million now out of work, employed again. What could happen to this country after a huge inflation, even assuming our neutrality is maintained throughout it, at war's end is another matter. Johnson, Borah, Clark, Wheeler, Hoover and other conservative republicans and democrats, we feel in our bones, are more likely to be right in this crisis than Mr. Roosevelt.

Whether the arms embargo is repealed or not, we shall have a tremendous gain in exports. Materials which are used extensively in wartime, such as petroleum and its products, steel in billets and partly manufactured, food stuffs of every kind, lumber, and other commodities, which must be had in amounts large enough to offset the lower production entailed when a nation's man power is called to the unproductive business of war, will be in ever increasing demand on the part of the belligerents.

Not only the belligerents will be buyers of extra supplies of a great variety of commodities this country produces, but the demands of South America and other neutral nations must be met by the farms and industries of this country, if the war in Europe be long continued. As a matter of fact the export of arms and munitions is not the major export in value in war time. The major export is of materials needed by any nation through the purchase of which greater man power can be released for war activities.

FIVE PROPOSED MEASURES ON NOV. 7 BALLOT

By CLEM WHITAKER

Five ballot proposals—two of them high-voltage, sharply contested issues, which have drawn comment from the President of the United States and top-ranking cabinet officers—will confront California voters when they troop to the polls for the special election on November 7.

Mobilized during recent weeks by the most spectacular registration drive in California's history, millions of voters will say "Yes" or "No" on the following measures:

Proposition No. 1—The 30-Every Thursday pension scheme, heralded by its promoters as the gateway to Heaven on Earth, but denounced by tax-experts as "one-way road to ruin and disillusionment."

Proposition No. 2—A new Chiropractic initiative act.

Proposition No. 3—So-called "anti-loan-shark" act, limiting interest rates on small loans to 2½ per cent on first $100 borrowed and 2 per cent on the next $200.

Proposition No. 4—A second act aimed at small loan companies, supplementing Proposition No. 3.

The eyes of the Nation have been focused on the California special election, due to bizarre features of the Ham and Eggs pension proposal (Proposition No. 1), and the quickened interest of the Navy Department, as a result of World War conditions, in the Atkinson bill, Proposition No. 5.

President Roosevelt has taken a definite, positive stand on both proposals—urging a "No" vote on the 30-Thursday pension scheme, which he has characterized as "fantastic" and a tax on poverty, and asking support (through the Navy Department) of the Atkinson act, which has been made an integral part of the national defense program.

Leaving no doubt of the navy's vital interest in securing enactment of the Atkinson bill, the official argument for the act, in the Voters' Pamphlet, is signed by Wentworth H. Osgood, Lieutenant Commander. U. S. Navy, with the comment: "The foregoing statement is authorized by the Navy Department."

Urging California voters to support the oil control act, Commander Osgood declares: "The navy is particularly interested in oil conservation for the reason California contains all the known oil deposits in the areas west of the Rocky Mountains, and because this area is, in a military sense, practically insulated from the reservoirs of the East by these mountains."

WOMAN SENTENCED TO 10 DAYS IN JAIL

Jean Earl Ogle, who built a fire in the woman's ward of the county jail one evening last week, while incarcerated there on a charge of drunken driving, appeared Wednesday before City Judge Miles Coughlin, pleaded guilty, was fined $50 and given a sentence of ten days in jail. She will serve her sentence in the county jail because the city jail has no accomodation for women prisoners.

BUCK STEW FOR MASONIC LODGE

A buck camp stew prepared by Fred R. Garrison, topped with ice cream and cake was the treat in store for about 75 members of Nevada Lodge No. 13, F. & A. M. and their guests and members of the Order of Eastern Star, Wednesday.

Following the dinner Cary S. Arbogast, Worshipful Master of the lodge, assisted by other officers, conferred the third degree of Masonry on a candidate.

Charles A. Lutz of Stockton is visiting his sister, Mrs. Annie Browning of Boulder street, and other relatives. He will spend some time deer hunting while here.

RAINFALL TO DATE TOTALS 1.27 INCHES

Rainfall for Nevada City so far this season is 1.27 according to the rain gauge at the home of Mrs. Jennie Preston. Travelers over Donner Summit yesterday stated snow lay on each side of the highway at the summit and in higher places it was a foot or more in depth. Predictions are for an early and shorter winter. Three or more passes over the Sierra Nevada range toward Central and Southern California are closed to travel but so far Yuba and Donner remain open.

SCOUTS RUN INTO SNOW STORM AT CAMP PAHATSI

Members of the regular week end work party at Camp Pahatsi added another experience to the usual enjoyable week end when they returned late Sunday night with reports of a fairly heavy first fall of snow in the higher regions.

The party under the leadership of L. H. Reynolds, camping chairman, was composed of Del Kalbaugh of the Nevada Irrigation District, George Gwin of Nevada City, Howard Clary of Grass Valley, Bruce Kimsey of Roseville, and Scout Executive E. A. Williams.

Projects for the week included completion of dynamiting of rocks in the lake that have injured boats and caused hazards to swimmers, the connecting of water heaters and lights for use when the P. G. & E. power is installed this month, and the cleaning of store rooms for preparation of winter food storage.

During the past four weeks members of work parties have put in a total of four hundred and forty eight man hours of work in making the camp ready for winter use and improving conditions in general. The men contribute their time and money to making these improvements without any material compensation. The Tahoe Area Council is indeed wealthy to have men of this calibre.

COUNTY ELIGIBLE VOTERS, 10,689

Voters numbering 16,689, next to the highest registration in the history of Nevada county, will cast their ballots in the "Ham and Eggs" election November 7, according to completed tabulations of registrations compiled by County Clerk R. N. McCormack.

In January of this year the county clerk in accordance with the law "purged" the registration of those who had not voted at either the primary or general election of 1938 down to 9878. Since that date 1711 voters have registered to qualify themselves to vote at the election.

Broken down into registrations for the various supervisorial districts the following results are shown.

Supervisorial district No. 1 (Nevada City) 2766; No. 2 (Grass Valley) 5818; No. 3 (Bloomfield, Eureka and Washington) 357; No. 4 (Rough and Ready and Bridgeport), No. 5 (Meadowlake and Little York) 876.

The largest precinct in the county in regard to registration is Hills Flat No. 1 with 613 votes. At the next session of the board of supervisors this precinct will be divided.

MILES TILDEN OF NOR. SAN JUAN HONORED

His record of over 35 years a traveling salesman won for Miles Tilden, prominent North San Juan resident, the honor of being master of ceremonies at a meeting of 182 traveling salesmen held in Hotel Oakland in Oakland.

Tilden is one of 18 salesmen who were present that traveled over 35 years throughout Northern California. Four of these men are still working, the rest having retired. Many speeches were made relating experiences.

Nevada City Antlers Lodge will hold the first meeting under the newly intsalled officers on Monday evening. L. G. Lageson, agricultural commissioner, and a member of the Elks Lodge is the new counselor for the Antlers.

W. S. RYAN GUEST OF ROTARY CLUB, TELLS OF JAPAN

W. S. Ryan, Y. M. C. A. official was the guest speaker at the Rotary luncheon yesterday. He gave the club an intimate glimpse of life as it is lived in Japan. Cecil Klee, new scout master for the Rotary troop gave a report of the rapid growth the troop is making. He expects the troop to reach its membership limit of 32 at the next meeting.

Mrs. Marian Libbey led the club in fifteen minutes of singing. Her vivacious leadership much increased the volume and improved the choral tempo of the singing.

Japan, said Mr. Ryan, is a curious mixture of old and new. Alongside modern automobiles on the streets of the larger cities are the rickshas. The social places of meeting are the large hot water tanks where business men discuss politics and trade. Women are not supposed to bathe until the men have finished but often both men and women occupy the same bath. Japan is a man's world. Women, until the war against China somewhat altered the custom, have the position of a humble servant in the home. They remove their husband's shoes when he comes home from work. Prepare the food and do all work about the house. They never, except on rare, ceremonious occasions, accompany their husbands outside the home. Their husband's consorts at various business dinners are geisha girls who at a public dinner, providing table service and pouring wine, do what the wife does at home. Their conversations is also supposed to be entertaining.

Mr. Ryan's 12 year stay in Japan was occupied with teaching the Japanese American games, such as baseball, basketball, and various indoor games. He found the Japanese apt pupils. At Tokio he and another Y. M. C. A. official conducted summer school sessions in outdoor and indoor games, and physical education instructors from all over Japan came to take these courses. In a very short time Japanese youth became very proficient.

GYPSIES SLOWLY LET GO OF CARY ARBOGAST CASH

In a telephone conversation late yesterday afternoon Sheriff Carl Tobiassen learned from authorities in Sacramento that the band of gypsies who robbed Cary S. Arbogast last Saturday had turned over $20 more to the Sacramento sheriff's office. Thus far, $80 of the $156 forcibly taken from Arbogast has been returned. The entire sum was supposed to have been paid by 6 o'clock Wednesday evening.

A "tip" and diligent police work by Tobiassen led to the apprehension of the alleged thieves. The sheriff received word that a band of gypsies who might be the ones sought were camped at Sacramento. Tobiassen and Arbogast hurried to that city and found the group.

Although denying any complicity in the robbery, the leader of the band which was camped on the Folsom road about 12 miles from Sacramento handed over $60 of the amount stolen and gave a written promise that the remainder would be returned at the stipulated time.

Tobiassen stated that no legal action will be taken. Since Arbogast will, in all probability, receive the rest of his money, and that he could not positively identify his assailants or their car, a trial would probably result in an acqittal and a useless expense to the county. A promise, however, was made by the gypsies that they would never return to Nevada county.

The gypsies are believed to be the same group that robbed Army Hill of Downieville of $76 the same night.

Mrs. R. J. Berggren most graciously entertained members of the Willow Valley Tuesday club in her new home on the Red Dog road Tuesday afternoon. The members spent the afternoon making needlepoint, embroidery and crocheting.

Mrs. Libbey Shields left for San Francisco Wednesday and will return this week end with a new line of fall goods for her store.

Accountant Praises And Admonishes City Council In Report

The City of Nevada is in better financial condition today than it was two years ago, was the statement issued by Lyman Straine, certified public accountant, following his examination of the books of the city, in a report submitted to the city council.

Straine said, "This statement discloses that the excess of revenues over expenses, in the amount of $15,779.32 was the only source of funds provided. Of this amount, $11,144.67 was applied to increase fixed assets and retire bonds, thus leaving current assets increased by $4,634.65 of which $4,028.24 was applied to increase cash, and $606.41 to increase accounts receivable—Water Department.

"The city is therefore in a better cash position than it was two years ago by $4,028.24."

With few exceptions, the books were found in satisfactory condition. The accountant, however, admonished the council to refrain from selling either merchants or services to the city—an infraction of the law.

"Your attention," he said, "is called to provisions of law forbidding any elective officer from selling any merchandise or services to the city, either directly or indirectly. An examination of the claims discloses, in our opinion, a number of at least technical violations of the law. While we are not in a position to state whether or not such infractions were committed knowingly or intentionally, yet we feel duty bound to bring them to your atttention, with the admonition that such policies should be corrected."

Straine concluded his report with: "Aside from the specific exceptions set forth herein, we found the books of the city in satisfactory condition, and very little difficulty was experienced in the detailed verification thereof, and the extraction therefrom of the various exhibits and schedules contained in this report."

COMMITTEE TO ASK ADJUSTMENT OF LAWSUIT

First steps to end the stalemate now existing between the State Highway Commission and the residents of Downieville regarding the Downieville highway were taken Wednesday night by the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce when a committee to adjust the situation was formed.

The committee, consisting of Frank Finnegan, chairman, Dr. Walter Hawkins, A. C. Presley, Jr., Miles Tilden, Emmett Gallagher and H. F. Sofge, will meet with a Downieville group to consider ways and means of ending the now pending litigation that arose as the result of the disastrous 1937 flood, and attempt to come to an agreement about repairing the "road of a thousand curves" between Nevada City and Downieville.

The delegation from Nevada City that traveled to Sacramento recently were informed by the highway commission that no action would be taken on the road until a $600,000 suit against the commission by residents of Downieville was cleared up.

Two members of the commission, Einer Nielsen and L. G. Hitchcock, will personally inspect the road shortly after October 15. The Chamber of Commerce committee will go to Downieville to make an appointment to meet the commission when they arrive.

At their Wednesday night meeting the chamber also made definite plans for the dance to be held October 28. President Emmett Gallagher appointed committees to handle the arrangements. John Haskins will be general chairman, assisted by Harrison Randall.

Other committees include: program: A. C. Presley, Jr., chairman, Cliff Robbins, Dick Lane and W. E. Moulton; decorations: Carl Starkey, chairman, Lloyd Dudley and Joe Cartoscelli; music: L. W. Kopp; entertainment: Fred Garrison, Jr., chairman, and Lloyd Dudley; floor manager: Carrol J. Coughlin; sound truck: Verle Gray; and advertising: Carl Starkey and Fred Garrison, Jr.

HOLLYWOOD BUYS WAGONS

C. E. Clark, as agent, shipped a full carload of old stage coaches, buggies, carts and sleds from Colfax yesterday afternoon to be used in some large motion picture in Hollywood. Trucks brought the old material down from North Bloomfield and they were loaded on the train. Many old vehicles were in the store of McKillican and Mobley when Mobley sold out to Taylor, and others were picked up in the surrounding country.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Jeffrey of Walrath avenue returned from San Francisco Saturday evening. Jeffrey, superintendent of the Pennsylvania mine in Grass Valley, has regained his health and has returned to assume his duties Monday morning.

WILLIAM P. LEE TODAY GOES TO POST AT SHASTA

William P. Lee, construction engineer in the forest service, leaves today for his new post in the Shasta national forest. His is to be the task of relocating and constructing 60 miles of roads in the forest there, which will be inundated when the big Kennet dam is completed for the Central Valleys water project.

Owing to the difficulty of finding a suitable residence at Shasta, Mrs. Lee and the two daughters will remain in Nevada City until arrangements can be made for living accomodations.

The Rotary club yesterday paused to sing a tribute to Lee, who made his last appearance at the weekly luncheon.

Seventy members of the Tahoe National forest employees were present Wednesday evening to enjoy a farewell party at Heidelberg Inn given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Lee.

The party theme was decorations appropriate to an engineer. The place cards were particularly attractive. Mrs. Nichols made the decorations. Arrangements for the party were made by Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Mitchell, Mrs. B. C. Goldsmith, Mr. and Mrs. Schofield. DeWitt Nelson, supervisor of the Tahoe national forwas toastmaster of the evening. After dinner speeches were made and a gift was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Lee. The evening was spent in dancing.

CHLORINATOR TO BE INSTALLED

Nevada City will soon be drinking chlorinated water. This fact was guaranteed last night when the city council approved a bid by the Chemical Equipment Co. of Los Angeles to install a chlorinator to purify drinking water and to forestall any possibility of spreading disease by that medium.

The chlorinator, to be installed immediately at a cost of $495, will have a capacity several times larger than the normal consumption of this city. It is the same type of equipment that is in constant use by several cities near here and which is used extensively by both the United States Army and Navy departments.

The city council of Nevada City in their regular monthly meeting denied a petition circulated by a number of Pine street business men and property owners to have the parking ban lifted. The petition said that Pine street was no longer part of the state highway and should be open for parking. It recommended a ten minute limit.

Chief of Police Garfield Robson opposed the plan on the grounds that

Next Week Is Newspaper Week

Next week is Newspaper Week, a brief period designated by Governor Olson as a tribute to the efficient work of the press as it constantly brings to a myriad of homes an accurate picture of local, national and world events.

Newspapers are proud of the fact that the public has found them to be dependable and reliable as they present the news of the day in detail—news that has been verified and confirmed by every possible means at hand.

Newspapers are proud of the fact that the scope of their service is unlimited—that it is varied, multiple, diverse, constant, factual.

Newspapers are proud of the fact that the vast majority of the reading public has faith and confidence in them—a faith and a confidence that seldom has been misplaced.

That is why the newspaper of today enjoys the distinction of having—and holding—the respect and loyalty of men and women everywhere.

This year the California Newspaper Publishers Association has selected TRUTH as the theme for Newspaper Week. On that occasion newspapers throughout the state will reaffirm to the public their pledge to eliminate propaganda in every possible way and to provide a medium to which all may turn to find the reliable and accurate information.

All this may sound just a bit egotistical, but it's true, every word of it. Newspapers are proud — and jealous—of their reputations.

He Is An American

(FROM THE NEW YORK SUN)

He is an American.

He hears an airplane overhead, and if he looks up at all does so in curiosity, neither in fear nor in the hope of seeing a protector.

His wife goes marketing, and her purchases are limited by her needs, her tastes, her budget, but not by decree.

He comes home of an evening through streets which are well lighted, not dimly in blue.

He reads his newspaper and knows that what it says is not concocted by a bureau, but an honest, untrammeled effort to present the truth.

He has never had a gas mask on.

He has never been in a bombproof shelter.

His military training, an R. O. T. C. course in college, he took because it excused him from the gymn course, and it was not compulsory.

He belongs to such fraternal organizations and clubs as he wishes.

He adheres to a political party, to the extent that he desires—the dominant one, if that be his choice, but with the distinct reservation that he may criticize any of its policies with all the vigor which to him seems proper—any other as his convictions dictate, even, if it be his decision, one which holds that the theory of government of the country is wrong and should be scrapped.

He does not believe, if his party is out of power, that the only way in which it can come into power is through a bloody revolution.

He converses with friends, even with chance acquaintances, expressing freely his opinion on any subject, without fear.

He does not expect his mail to be opened between posting and receipt, nor his telephone to be tapped.

He changes his place of dwelling, and does not report so doing to the police.

He has not registered with the police.

He carries an identification card only in case he should be the victim of a traffic accident.

He thinks of his neighbors across international borders—of those to the north as though they were across a state line, rather than a foreigners—of those to the south more as strangers since they speak a language different from his, and with the knowledge that there are now matters of difference between his government and theirs, but of neither with an expectancy of war.

He worships GOD in the fashion of his choice, without let.

His children are with him in his home, neither removed to a place of greater security, if young, nor, if older, ordered ready to serve the state with sacrifice of limb or life.

He has his problems, his troubles, his uncertainties, but all others are not overshadowed by the imminence of battle and sudden death.

He should struggle to preserve his Americanism with its priceless priviliges.

He is a fortunate man.

He is an American.

Just Wonderin'

I wonder about many things
Too numerous to mention,
And some are founded upon fact
And some are pure invention;
I wonder about peace and war,
About false gods and true,
And wondering about these things,
Is all that I can do.

I wonder if England's "war of leaflets," is entirely without merit. After all, it may be of vastly greater importance to create an open mind in Germany than to maintain an open door in the Orient.

If you were fighting to the death with a mad dog, and your friend stepped up and bit the tip of the dog's tail, that would be news, but would it constitute efficient aid in extricating you from your painful situation?

I wonder if Opportunity is knocking at my door. I've conceived the idea of concocting a fancy nut sundae with an egg base and naming it the Olson Special.

I wonder at the astonishing waves of loving kindness now sweeping across the world. It's all so very beautiful: ancient hates forgotten, new and tender bonds in process of formation. Germany and Russia clasping hands with a warm "Hiel Comrade," Japan and the Soviets rubbing noses, Republican and Democrats trying to put country above party. Now, if John Lewis and William Green would bury the hatchet and embrace, the picture would be quite perfect.

I'm most eager to learn the exact meaning of the word "affiliation," and I hope some one will teach me how to pronounce those funny Russian words that end with, "ski," "ovitch," etc.

I wonder if the chief trouble with our modern Christian civilization is, that it is neither Christian nor civil.

I wonder what name will be chosen for the Nazi-Soviet combination. Nazviets maybe, or Bolshenazi, we've got to call it something. Perhaps it will fall apart before a really suitable name can be selected. You see, it is customary for pirates, brigands, et al to quarrel quite fiercely over the final division of loot.

I wonder if a few of the German subs now being sighted by wide eyed sea faring men may possibly be just good. old-fashioned sea serpents. —A. MERRIAM CONNER.

Distinguished Tablecloth Is Hand-Crocheted

MARK of distinction in the well-groomed home—a hand-crocheted tablecloth. This one features dainty motifs which are joined in a wreath-like effect. Crocheted of heavy mercerized crochet cotton, it will prove sturdy and durable, a suitable background for the most important china, glass and silver. Tablecloths like this will also be entered in the Third National Crochet Contest this fall. Directions for crocheting it, and details of The National Crochet Contest may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to The National Crochet Bureau, 522 Fifth Avenue, New York City. Specify tablecloth No. 7147.

FEW PEOPLE ARE TAX CONSCIOUS

By THE MAN ON THE STREET

The government is now spending more than 2½ times as much as was spent during 1931, the first deficit year of the depression. Last year's orgy, with gross expenditures of 9 billion 268 million dollars marked a new high in federal peacetime spending—higher even than in 1936, when over a billion and a half was paid out for the Veteran's Bonus.

The new pace of government spending is best shown, according to the non-partisan National Economy League, by eliminating all bonus and debt retirement expenditures. This is how the figures compare on that basis, from 1931 to date:

Fiscal year	In Millions 000,000 omitted
1931	$3,427
1932	4,541
1933	4,581
1934	6,695
1935	6,752
1936	6,703
1937	7.885
1938	7,626
1939	9,210

It is suggested that perhaps our present "limited national emergency," the fervent pleas from Washington for a "united people" (although we are not at war and not going to war, they say) and suggestions that we adjourn politics, are designed to take our minds off these unpleasant facts.

Unfortunately, our domestic problems have not been adjourned.

A friend of ours made a survey of voting strength among a few of his acquaintances the other day. Ten "heads of households," that is, ten bread winners (males, to you), were tackled. They represented 21 votes. The survey showed:

Voted at last election: seven bread winners.

Wives or dependent voting, according to heads of households: yes, four; don't know, three; doubtful, four.

We wonder if these contacts were about average. Much wind and some blood were expended in order to attain universal suffrage in America. Do we merit the ballot?

Sometimes, when we comment caustically on the absurd goings-on in Washington, someone tells us that "it's all right to make wisecracks, but what is needed is constructive criticism."

All right, just what is constructive criticism? The Man on the Street believes it is constructive criticism to show (1) that it does not work and (2) that the more you do it the less it will work. That is precisely the case with most of the policies that have been experimented with during the last seven years. If they were working, we would not be where we are today—looking for a way out of the worst mess this country has ever been in. The remedy is to abate the abuse.

A Gallup poll taken this year revealed that 25 per cent of the adult population of the United States is unaware that it pays taxes! Most of this 25 per cent came from earners of $20 a week or less. They thought they were not taxpayers, despite the act that a single man earning $18 a week, living in a furnished room and owning no property pays $116 year in hidden taxes. This is according to a study by the Northwestern National Life Insurance Company, which also finds that the $150-a-month earner pays $220 a year.

One-quarter of all the $18-a-week earner pays for rent goes for real estate taxes and he pays sneaky, indirect taxes on his food, clothing, transportation and amusements. These levies have been passed down to him through the taxes the farmers, packers, wholesalers and retailers have to pay. Taxes have been woven into the fabric of every stitch he wears. They are keeping him from getting a raise in pay. And his taxes are not on luxuries, as is the case with some of those paid by earners in the higher brackets. They are on necessities. And they lower his standard of living.

When these mistaken 25 per cent of the people find out they are being "soaked" right along with the rich, the politicians who are keeping them selves in office by squandering the people's money are going to be tossed out.

ADULT COURSES AT HIGH SCHOOL

A heightened interest in adult education in Nevada City resulted in the announcement by District Superintendent of Schools H. E. Kjorlie that night school would commence October 10th and continue until December 14th.

This year, by popular demand two new courses will be offered, bringing the total to 18. The Industrial Arts Department will give instruction in wood trimming, cabinet making, metal spinning, art metal work, sheet metal, forge work and acetylene welding. The most modern equipment has been purchased for this course.

The other new subject is arts and crafts on a much larger scale embracing Spanish, French, typing, sewing, cooking and physical education.

Most of the instructors for the night courses are members of the regular high school faculty.

Blanks for registration will be given out this week to the students to take to their parents. Anyone may register, however, by telephoning 120 or applying at the high school. Classes must have a registration of ten or more. Classes not listed may be added if there is sufficient demand for them.

ANTHROPOLOGIST LIVES FOR YEARS AMONG WILD MEN

BERKELEY, Oct. 5.—By calling on the services of a skilled amateur German anthropologist who for years has intermittently become a full fledged member of a number of the tribes, the University of California has been able to obtain a large amount of intimate information on the customs and culture of the wild and primitive Ge Indians in the deep Brazilian hinterland. It is the first time that much of this information has been revealed to the world.

The activities of this picturesque scientist who appears to be able to throw off every vestige of civilization at will and live as a human wildling among painted savages, reveals a story as interesting as any that he has been able to bring out of the jungle depths. He is the only white man known to have penetrated so deeply into the fiercely coveted rites and cultures of the hostile tribesmen. For years he has gone under Indian surname of Nimuendaju or Home Builder, conferred upon him by the tribesmen as a symbol of his activities. This name he has legalized in the Brazilian courts, casting off his own family name of Unkel. It is the name he appends to all of his scientific writings, which are now sought by the university archives of many countries because of their surprising information on the secret ceremonials and customs of the aborigines of Brazil's untamed hinterland.

Thirty five years ago, Curt Unkel arrived at Belem do Para, or Para as it is known today, 85 miles inland from the mouth of the Amazon to work along the Brazilian littoral as a land surveyor and planner. But back in his native Thudingen, he had developed a deeply acquisitive sense regarding the activities of little known peoples. Although he had no training as an anthropologist, he became interested in the strange, wild tribes that lived along the Rio Araguaya and the Rio Tocantins, long winding rivers that somewhat parallel the Amazon into the Brazilian country, and at many other points on the Brazilian plain that have seldom known the presence of a white man.

Fair Court of Seven Seas

Ruled over by the stately 400-foot Tower of the Sun, the beautiful Court of the Seven Seas at the Golden Gate International Exposition is a favorite with Fairgoers. Soft colored streamers dance gaily in the gentle breeze as they stretch from the crows' nests that mark the Court, down to the bottom of the masts. Each mast serves as a memorial to the gallant ships of the old sail days that built up American supremacy on the Pacific seas.

BONUS MONEY

From an officer of Banner Mt. Post, V. F. W. Tuesday it was learned there are 150,000 persons in the United States who have not claimed their bonus money. This bonus is also transferrable to the mother, widow or children of ex-service men who have died or were killed in action. The time for application expires on January 1, 1940.

TWO BUCKS KILLED

Two three-point bucks were killed in the Edwards Crossing district early Wednesday morning by Bob Tamblyn and Roy McDaniel of Nevada City. Several members of the McCormack, Stedger and Coughlin families were in the party.

"DIE WALKURE" TO BE SUNG AT SACTO. OCT. 28

Led by four internationally famous Metropolitan singers, the San Francisco Opera Company will present Wagner's music drama, "Die Walkure" at the Sacramento Memorial Auditorium Saturday evening, October 28th, as the opening event of the 1939-40 Sacramento Music Series.

Lead honors are shared by Kirsten Flagstad, soprano, and Lauritz Melchoir, tenor, universally considered the greatest voices of the Metropolitan and the leading Wagner interpreters of this generation. They will be supported by Kathryn Meisle, contralto, and Marjorie Lawrence, soprano. In this great opera, based on old Scandinavian myths of warrior gods and heroic mortals torn in struggle with love and destiny. Flagstad will be heard as Brunnhilde, the rebellious Valkyrie; Melchoir as the hero Siegmund, mortal son of the god Wotan; Meisle as the goddess Fricka, wife of Wotan; and Lawrence as Sieglinde, wife of Hunding and lover of Siegmund.

MRS. ELIZABETH DENMIRE OF DOWNIEVILLE PASSES

The services will be held in Odd Fellows hall in Downieville and interment will take place in the local cemetery.

RETAILERS ASSN. TO REFUSE HAM AND EGGS PAPER

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5. — The California Retailers Association, comprising leading dry goods, clothing, specialty and department stores in virtually every city and town in the state, issued an official warning today that the so-called Ham and Eggs warrants will be absolutely valueless through its managing director, Vincent D. Kennedy, the association declares:

"Because of the confidence mutually existing between retail merchants and their customers, the California Retailers Association believes it to be its duty to make a statement concerning the so-called 30-Thursday Pension Plan to be voted upon at the special election, November 7.

"We cannot and will not accept the so-called 30-Thursday warrants in payment for merchandise.

"The membership of this association is composed of the leading dry goods, clothing, specialty and department stores of the state.

"We would naturally favor any sound plan which would increase public purchasing power and thereby increase sales, but the visionary and unworkable 30-Thursday scheme would not create new business. It would cripple and detsroy business and bring upon California a depression far worse than any we have yet experienced. This is not alone the opinion of our association; it is the considered judgment of every reputable economist, tax expert and trade authority who has studied the plan and analyzed it.

"In justice to our patrons, our employees and all who have business relations with us, we feel compelled to take a public stand against a proposal which is predicated on the false assumption that money, or its equivalent, can be created by the simple expedient of printing it. The disastrous effect on trade, business and employment cannot be estimated, but California would continue to pay the bill for its folly for years after the program had been abandoned and repealed by a disillusioned electorate.

"The greatest danger in the situation is the erroneous belief held by many sincere and earnest citizens that the plan is harmless, even though impractical, and that the courts would invalidate the scheme. Every voter should be warned that only the warrant, the scrip provisions of the act would be subject to attack in the federal courts and that even if they were declared unconstitutional, all of the really dangerous features of the act would still remain in full force.

"This statement is made solely in the interest of the public welfare and to make it known to our customers that the proposed 30-Thursday warrants will be absolutely valueless for trade in any of the stores represented in our membership. We earnestly urge California voters to vote "NO" on Proposition No. 1 in November 7.

OAT CROP RUINED BY GOLD FEVER

Glancing back to pioneer times it was related by H. P. Davis yesterday that:

The first water company in Nevada City was established in 1850. Long Tom, or miners sluice boxes were in use over many gravel diggings about Nevada City. The water was brought from Mosquito Creek to the Coyote Diggins, now Coyote street. Miners were charged $4 per 24 hour day for water. The overflow which was a little muddy brought $3 per24 hour period while the muddy water toward the creek was sold for $1. per day.

Two men in 1851 planted a field of oats on a level spot now in the center of what is now Grass Valley and had visions of lots of feed for horses as all forage had to be freighted from the valley. When the crop was nearing maturity it was discovered that the ground was extremely rich in gold. The field was staked out by miners in 24 hours and the oats disappeared as the men fell to work recovering nuggets and gold dust.

Mrs. Bert Davidson and sister in law, Mrs. Ed Smythe, of the North Bloomfield district were Nevada City visitors Wednesday.

HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY

A well attended meeting of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist church was held Wednesday afternoon. Plans were made for a thank offering tea the first part of November and a Sasairo meeting will be also be held early in November and other winter work.

The bazaar which is given by the Ladies Aid Society will take place in December.

YUBA PASS SNOW REMOVAL

Petitions were being circulated Wednesday by the committee from the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce asking the state highway commission to maintain snow removal service in the Yuba Pass area during the winter.

Mrs. David May and family of Denver, Colorado, arrived yesterday afternoon to visit Mrs. May's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Baker. Mrs. May was the former Miss Alberta Baker.

Much favorable comment continues to come from the Nevada City high and elementary schools P. T. A. booth. Mrs. Lucille Hamilton carried out the Hansel and Gretel central theme and all sorts of fresh fruits, vegetables, nuts, canned fruits were distributed about the booth. Mrs. J. D. Rafferty assisted in the arrangement.

TURNS OLD SAN JUAN HOME INTO GARDEN SPOT

In the windows of Cliff Warner, artist of the gold country, are a Tasmanian butter fruit bean four and a half feet long and a sweet Spanish pepper plant that are attracting much interest and unfolds one of the most interesting stories of the San Juan country.

About three years ago Wade Odon, who had taken a course at the Oregon State agricultural college decided to return to the large old Bronn Brewery ranch for his health. His wife was a Miss Bronn leaving the San Juan district when a child.

Odon saw the possibilities for development into a nice home and started at once planting nursery stock for his orchard of apples, pears, peaches, butternuts, black and English walnuts, hazel nuts and even avacados. Seven hundred feet of pipe was laid to an old mine tunnel on the property and water brought to a 100,000 gallon reservior for one of the finest gardens in the county. This year he has 114 different varieties of vegetation growing about his home. In this collection are eight kinds of peppers, nine varieties of tomatoes, egg plants which produce in abundance, some of the larger ones weighing eight pounds, garden huckle berries. etc.

Odon has laid pipes for ground sluicing and when there is sufficient water in the winter months he sluices gravel from an old channel recovering satisfactory gold values and the debris fills in a meadow below his home. He is erecting two larger dams, during the summer and will handle more gravel this winter.

Odon's 87 year old father resides with him. He has led a life rich in pioneer memories. He crossed the plains in 1878 with a 300 wagon caravan and kept the train supplied with fresh meat throughout the journey. He followed blacksmithing after coming west.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By BARBARA PHARISS

This afternoon the Nevada City Yellowjackets football team will meet the Gridley team on the local turf at 2:30. School will close early because of this. The game was changed from Saturday to give more people a chance to come.

After their game last Saturday, the boys are more confident than ever. Coach Ed Frantz has held practice regularly this week. Some of the boys who suffered injuries, are now well and the team will be out in full force. The boys hope the rooting section will be on their toes and give them all the support possible.

Although the high school band did not play at the last game, Mr. Ralph Smith has been training them the past two weeks for the game Friday. The entire band will appear. They will play the high school songs, "High O'er the Mountain Tops," "Here's to Nevada High School," "The Purple and Gold" and "Come on and Fight." Some of the marches will be "Military Escort," "Little Jumbo," "Junior Warden," and "Symbol of Honor." Mr. Smith deserves much credit for his work in organizing the band.

The public address system will be used Friday. This is one of the improvements over last year and adds much to the event. Bob Carr will describe the plays at the quarters and the half.

The public is cordially invited to come and see the boys.

ASSEMBLY TODAY

The regular assembly today will be devoted largely to a "pep" rally. The choruses, under the direction of Mrs. Libbey has been practicing the school songs. They will sing, "Here's to Nevada High School," "High O'er the Mountain Top," and a new school song, "Stand Up and Cheer," in parts. All three choruses will take part, with the student body joining in.

The yell leader in charge will be Bettie Olsen. She is a senior, this being her first year here. She is a good leader and has infused the student body with pep. It is hoped that uniforms for the yell leaders will be purchased soon. The Home Economics Club will probably furnish the money from sales.

the narrowness of the street and the large volume of traffic would increase the safety hazard if cars were allowed to park. Fire Chief Herbert Hallett was also opposed because the right of way to Piety Hill, where the majority of fire calls originate, would be obstructed to such an extent that the fire department efficiency would be lessened to a great extent.

Other matters brought before the council before the paper went to press included a request by Chief Robson that a new siren be installed on the police car. He asked that, since the car was to have a two-way radio installed Saturday, a siren be installed at the same time. Any action on the siren was deferred until further information could be presented.

It was revealed that $2383 was collected last month by the water department, the highest it has been in several months. In this connection several business men appeared before the council and claimed that they were overcharged. Their claims were noted by the council and an adjustment promised.

BUS BENEFIT DANCE SATURDAY AT NOR. SAN JUAN

A "Bus Benefit" dance sponsored by the Civic School club of North San Juan will be given tomorrow evening in Twamley hall, north San Juan for the purpose of raising money for the payment of the expense of maintaining the school bus which carries high school students from that district to the Nevada City high school.

The Nevada City Board of Education decided sometime since to discontinue running the bus, due to the fact that it entailed a considerable expense to the tax payers of this district. The decision was taken after the North San Juan and adjoining districts had voted down a proposal to join the Nevada City Unified School district under which expense for the bus line would have devolved on all tax payers in the unified district.

To meet this problem the North San Juan Civic School club was organized to give a series of dances in North San Juan to raise money to defray in part the cost of the maintaining the bus. With this understanding the bus service was resumed. Another dance on Hallowe'en will be given by the Civic School club, which will be known as the Hard times Carnival. This will take place October 28.
